HOMES IN HAWAII.

Farm Crops That Can Be Profitably Grown---Opportunities For Education---The Musical Kanaka.

(San Francisco Correspondence.) Hawaiian scenery, it is a subject about lation of the Hawaiian Islands is small climates are still continuous in their one hundred thousand slightly, of praise of the tropical verdure and which fourteen thousand were attendmidst of the Pacific Ocean. There Ten thousand were in the public has been resident in the Islands for schools. Fifty-six per cent. of all the some time a Scotchman-Mr. Charles children attending school at that time H. Ewart, of Dalbeattie, Scotland, were of native Hawaiian descent, and

| send, speaking of the educational sys Much as has been written concerning tem of the islands, says that the popu which literature can never be exhaust- and the school system is necessarily ed. People of all Natious and of all small. The total population exceeds scenery that can be found in the ing school at the end of last year.

maining nineteen per cent. represents

The English language is practically the only language as a means of communication or instruction in the Ha-of Hawaii as Arabic for those of Cali-large number of nationalities.

A HOME IN HAWAII.

whose soul was moved by the beautiful twenty-five were Portuguese. The revision which he describes in the following poetic language:

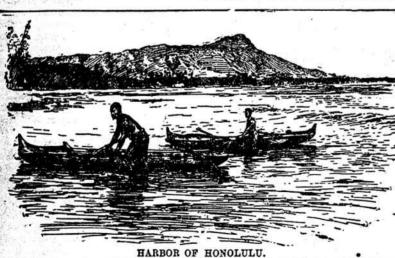

"We are in an amphitheatre of mountains rising to an altitude of 3000 and 4000 feet, with a glowing raiment of leaf and blossom from base to summit, save in spots where the red earth peeps through the radiant ourtain, as a foil to the flames of iridescent greens, and the fire of the blossoms that have enfolded the hills in their shining embrace. Here and there a pinnacle where no plant has found grace to grow stands out a purple silhouette against the soft blue of a topaz-tinted sky. Caves and fissures cative instruction under these con li- round his body, holding him in a long are cleft in the steeps of these mountain walls, and torn from the nearly perpendicular cliffs which surround it alone and apart, stands a pillar of stone twenty yards wide at the base, nearly a thousand feet high, and pointing 'Godward through the blue, like the spire of some mighty cathedral. This monolith carved and fashioned by some bygone convulsion of nature when the of fiery bair,' is swathed in a glorious garment of green and gold chequered with the rose and the azure of the bells of the convolvuli that dangle from the cordon of vines that engird

The valley in the early morning may be clear of mists, and a soft mountain breeze murmuring among the foliage, but at times it is filled with the noiseless ebbing and flowing of white vapor borne in from the sea, and out of this shimmering sea of mist the towers and minarets of the mountains arise clothed with mosses and ferns, and draped with garlands of eddying vines, that cover the face of the cliffs, and droop over the edges of giddy precipices in "cataracts of bloom," till they are swallowed up in the "white mists that choke the vale. and blot the sides of the bewildered

Although sugar cane is indigenous in Hawaii, little attempt was made toward its cultivation until 1835, when a plantation was started at Kauai, and several sugar mills were built. These mills were worked by the aid of mules and oxen, and the process was slow and laborious. What a contrast to the mills of the present day, where the cane is taken and made into crystals of sugar. There is no royal road to wealth in Hawaii, and any one who anticipates such a condition had better stay away. No man can go about blindfolded and pick up dollars in the streets, but no and final reward for honest, earnest and constant labor. Especially is this true in the coffee industry. The pretty homes and coffee area of Olaa are an evidence of this.

tions is a well nigh unsolved problem. But conditions are rapidly changing. The English language is coming into use at a means of communication among the graduates of the common schools, many of whom have no other language in common. Thus it is creaping into the homes of the people. When the children learn even crude English from their mothers, the teacher's task will be much simplified. country offers a better opportunity For many years there have been schools Honolulu, and Hilo especially, nglish-speaking parents. Lately number of other locations, and still

It is quoted in San Francisco at six- are not essentially different from teen cents to twenty-four cents a schools of similar grade in America. pound. There every field is as dry as A regular public high school is in proa bone. In Hawaii every field is perpetually green. The dairy business offers a much better opening than any line of merchandising. And as a byproduct to the dairy, hogs will pay magnificently. Pork is retailing at twenty-five cents a pounds. The advertising columns of the local papers tell a curious story of the strangely backward condition of some of the smaller industries. 'Ex Australia: peaches, plums, oranges, apples, grapes, nectarines, lemons, celery, cauli-flowers, potatoes, cheese, roll butter, orab apples, quinces, onions.' Those are imported from a country over two thousand miles distant.

Butter is selling in Hilo at $1 a roll. others will be opened shortly. These cess of organization in Honolulu, the greater number of the departments being already in working order. The endowed institution known as Oahu College, has long offered full preparation for any college in America, and many of its graduates have entered leading American colleges on advanced standing.

But the English-speaking children do not enjoy a monopoly of the privileges of education beyond the common school course. The Kamehameha Schools, with their magnificent equipment and no less magnificent endowment, are open to those of native Hawaiian blood and to no others. The Hawaiian Inspector-General of Manual training and industrial educa-Schools, Mr. Henry Schiller Town- tion are leading features of these swordsmanship ever seen in England.

schools, and few similar schools in America are so well equipped for work on these lines.

NATIVE HAWAIIAN ISLANDERS.

The guitar on account of the softness of its tone, is their favorite instru-The royal Hawaiian band, which a few years ago made a tour through the United States, was composed of native Hawaiians, all of whom were accomplished musicians. RED FANTON.

. Where He Worked. The prisoner was making his appearance before the magistrate for the hundredth time. "Well," said the magistrate, "you ere again?" "Yes, your worship," responded the prisoner. "What's the charge?" "Vagrancy-same as before, your vorship." "It seems to me you are here about alf your time."

"Rather more or less, your wor-"Well, what do you do it for? Why don't you work?" "I do, your worship, more than half my time.'

"Ah. now." said the magistrate, surprised, "if you can tell me where you have ever worked I'll let you off."
"In prison, your worship," smiled the prisoner, and the court kept its word. -The Rival.

Randolph's Body in an Oak's Embrace. Randolph was carried to Virginia and buried under the pines of Roanoke in the midst of that solitude which he had always craved in life. Many years later his remains were removed to Hollywood Cemetery in waiian schools. And here lies the difficulty of the work. Just imagine Richmond, and a handsome monument the teachers of California trying to placed over them by John Randolph teach the children of that State through Bryan. the Arabic language. Yet English is

. In making the removal it was found probably as difficult for the children that his body was buried no less than eight feet in the ground; the triple fornia. History, literature, natural lead coffin was with difficulty removed, science and even arithmetic must be as the roots of an old oak had burst it taught under great difficulties. Edu- asunder and wrapped round and

'A SCENE IN HAWAII. embrace close to the State he had loved so well.-Philadelphia Times.

Of Honest Parents.

"My opponent," shouted the orator, "has seen fit to refer to the fact that my mother took in washing. She did: and, what is more to the point, she always sent it all back!"

After that there was nothing to do but cast a majority vote for the man whose parent showed such evidence of perfect honesty and attention to duty.-Indianapolis Journal.

Women Bailiffs.

One large agency in London employs women for bailiffs, putting them in charge where the victim of distraint is a woman or an elderly person who is not likely to make trouble for the custodian.

Cut a Sheep in Two With a Broadsword. At a recent athletic exhibition in Boscombe, England, one of the featares of the day was a sheep-slaughtering contest, the prize going to the one who could kill a live sheep with a single blow. Many unsuccessful attempts were made with broadswords and axes. A Surrey hercules, however, won the prize, a purse of $50, by cutting a full-grown sheep squarely in two with a broadsword. It was conceded to be the nestest piece of POPULAR SCIENCE.

A CLEAN SWORD SWEEP.

Sugar alone will apparently sustain life for a considerable time. Poor window glass is responsible for eye strain on account of the faulty refraction, according to oculists. Taking Dr. Elkins's measurement of its distance the star Arcturus ex-peeds the sun in actual brightness 5000 times. Extract of the red marrow of bone stimulates the formative process and increases the rate of production of the red blood corpuscles. Sir Robert Ball, the astronomer, says that for communicating with the inhabitants of Mars we would need a flag as large as Ireland, and a pole 500 miles long.

The safest course if caught in a thunder storm is to allow one's self to become thoroughly soaked. chances of safety from lightning are ten to one in favor of the wet person.

If, after eating pure food, fresh outdoor air is breathed, the blood will show a large increase in red corpuscles. but by drinking stimulants, the red disks are decreased in serious propor-

An exhibition of acetylene gas is to be held at Cannetatt, Wurtemberg, and will include an exhibition of various generators, lamps, etc. The exhibition promises to be of considerable interest.

In birds the organ of sight is highly developed. British naturalists declare that the kestrel is possessed of such wonderful powers of sight that it is able to see a mouse when it is itself at such height in the air that it is invisible to the naked human eye.

It is said that Dr. Alexander Edington, bacteriologist to the Cape of Good Hope Government, has found that the blood of animals affected by rinderpest, when treated with citric acid and kept for such a time as to insure the death of the contagion, will, when injected, immunize all animals exposed to infection. Dr. Edington has practiced his protective injection on several large herds, and always with satisfactory result, the largest mortality having been a little over three per! cent. or eight animals in a herd o

An extraordinary account comes from Devonshire, England, of a chub, found in a muddy pool, that had evidently pushed its way when young into a cage-like space formed by the roots of a tree, and being unable to escape, had grown into the shape of its close-fitting prison. Lack of room had caused the tail to develop only to the extent of a little deformed stump. The back fin also had vanished, and the whole fish had been distorted into the gnarled and twisted form of the root cage, being hideous in appearance, yet seemingly strong and healthy. It is difficult to imagine how a fish could get food for years under such conditions.

Car Horse's Worst Fate,

No worse fate can befall a street-car horse than to be condemned to do service as a helper. It is a life sentence in most cases, and is a punishment, not for misconduct or poor work, but for faithful service and loyalty to his masters. When a horse has proved that he is strong and honest and faithful he is taken from the ranks of the given a title to the wayward members regular street-car horses and assigned of the human flock. to some hill or grade to help "spring" the car up it, says the New York Press.

There could be no more heart-breaking labor. Literally, it is all "up-hill Never a gentle slope where he may catch his breath or a level stretch where he may shake out the cramps in his legs, nothing but pulling a burden up hill all his days.

They don't live long. The best horses are put into the service, but the pace is too fast for them. They break down, as a general thing, before they have finished the first year.

Aside from the tremendous physical strain which the work demands the helper is exposed to all sorts and conditions of weather. Seldom is a blanket thrown over him, even in the coldest days, when ne is steaming from his exertions. After pulling one car up a grade he is compelled to return to the foot of the hill on the run in order to meet the next car. It is not to be wondered at that his knees give way, his wind becomes broken, his eves sightless, and that he breaks down altogether in less than twelve months.

As for the other street-car horsesthe regulars—the sympathy which the public always has expended on them is more or less wasted. Their lot does not begin to be as hard as persons believe, and compared to that of the truck horse it is a sinecure. He does not have to work more than four hours a day, and has only two trips of eight miles each to make. The average horse, whether a brougham aristocratic or a dumpcart plebeian, considers himself lucky is he has no more than six teen miles a day to travel.

Society For Welcoming Foreigners.

The "Kihin-Kai," or Society For Welcoming Foreigners, of Japan, has for its object to provide strangers with every facility for transacting their business or pursuing their pleasure without discomfort or exorbitant expense. On application at an office which has been opened in the chief hotel a visitor can produce all the information he requires. Introductions are supplied to personages of distinction and to business firms. Honest guides are provided, who will prevent extortion on the part of innkeepers, curio dealers and all the other classes who prey upon the innocent native of the West. No fee is charged, the society willingly incurring considerable expense with the conviction that the whole community will reap the benefit.-New York

Lady Doctors in London. Among the candidates for the bachelor degrees in medicine and surgery at the examination recently held at the London University there were no fewer than twenty lady candidates or about one-fourth of the total number sitting for the examination. The examinations for the London University M. B. and B. S. are held to be more will be required to run the Govthe "stiffest" of any medical examinaernment during 1898. tion in England, although, of course, it is necessary for all medical candi-The annual coal product of Montana dates to pass the examination of the has shown an uninterrupted increase Royal College of Surgeons or of Physieach year since 1877.

GOD'S MESSAGE TO MAN. FINGER NAIL JEWELRY. Sparkling Rings and Pendants Worn on the Ends of Feminine Fingers.

There are both rings and pendants, and they are made in quite a number of forms, but all of them have just as light a setting as is consistent with the safe fastening of the stones. The pendants most affected consist of two or three small stones, set tandem, and connected by fine gold chains instead of by solid bars. That makes them less awkward to the wearer and also more effective when they are flashed.

a screw arrangement such as is often used for diamond earrings. The nails do not have to be especially long, but great care must be taken in perfora-ating them, and that is an operation which is usually left to a manicure.

DIAMONDS ON FINGER TIPS.

all around with very small stones.

Smuggling Didn't Pay.

He took his yacht to Halifax, Nova purchased some $2000 worth of sulcustoms officer and confessed to hav-

The Original Black Sheep.

Wallachian sheep that it has served as the black one of his family and has

He is not altogether black. Only

It will discourage the human black sheep to learn that the Wallachian's viciousness and unruliness, which are amazing, are not more so than its utter

AN INFANT TRICK RIDER.

A Three-Year-Old Miss Who Can Do Dif-

Probably the youngest trick rider in the world is Pauline F. Abrams, of Cincinnati. The little miss is but three and one-half years old, but she has been in her father's store so often

-Mr. Abrams is proprietor of a large bicycle manufacturing concern-that she has come to be an accomplished

Pauline has a great fancy for play ing around the salesroom and has al ways insisted upon riding one of the

PAULINE ABRAMS AND HER WHEEL.

big machines whenever some one could spare time enough to help her and hold her on. Then to satisfy her a small wheel was built and she pedalled about the aisles, dodging in and out of visitors' way and turning sharp corners until she became very expert.

From then on it was easy to teach her a number of tricks that would be diffi-

Ladies' Watches.

this watch, with the little diamond on

Miss De Faque-"How much is Jeweler-"That is the same price

Miss De Faque-"Oh, that makes

The largest tree in America, and perhaps in the world, is the "Father of the Forest," one of the California redwoods. Some of the Australian

According to the estimates of the Secretary of the Treasury, $32,000,000

eucalypti are said to grow as tall.

as the other, but I haven't any works cult for the average rider.

no difference. I'll take it."

the back?'

to fit it."

ficult Feats on the Blcycle.

It is the proud distinction of the

The jewels are attached to the nails by

Finger nail jewelry is about the PREGNANT THOUGHTS FROM THE latest thing that manufacturers of WORLD'S CREATEST PROPHETS. gemmed novelties have brought out.

The Cross a Refuge-Christian Glying-A Prayer for Spiritual Harvest-The Two Currents of Life-Where Houses Are to Let-Do Something for Christ.

Cross of Christ, my Refuge!
Cross of Christ, my Peace!
As the night grows longer,
As the days decrease,
Draw me closer, closer,
Till temptations cease. Re my one companion,

Be my only guide, Be my strength in weakness When the flesh is tried; Shield me from the tempter ; Turn the world aside Let thy tender shadow

Fall across my way,
Hiding all my footsteps,
Stumbling or astray;
On the path before me
Shed a cheering ray. Past the past forever, Less must now remain, Less and less of failure, Less of grief and pain;

Lost in Thee all loss Found, the only gain, Cross of Christ, my Refuge! Hold me, hold me fast, Lest my soul affrighted Fall from Him at last.

When the final darkness Written for the Congregationalist by Har-riet McEwen Kimball.

Christian Giving. The grace of God prompts Christian giving. The Apostle Paul states that the churches of Macedonia "first gave their own selves to the Lord," and then out of "their selves to the Lord," and then out of "their deep poverty" to His cause. It resulted from "the grace of God bestowed." The gracious example of our Lord Jesus Christ, who, "though he was rich, yet for our sakes became poor, that we through his poverty might be rich," tests the sincerity of our love toward Him. Is not Christian money His capital? Is use of it a test of Christian has story Will with holding present growth character? Will withholding prevent growth in Christian character? "He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly." Christian giving has its spiritual profits. "He which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully." The rule for sowing bountfully is systematic giving. What is giving? The earliest Old Testament illustration is that earliest Old Testament illustration is that of Abram giving tithes to Melchizedek, "the priest of the most High God." The tithe became by divine appointment the financial method of the Hebrew church for both rich and poor. The nature of the tithe was the first fruit of all grains, oil, fruits and of beasts for temple sacrifices. The purpose of the tithe was the support of the worship of God and of the Levitical priesthood. Besides this, the Hebrews had free-will offerings over and above their covenanted tithe. Today, Christian giving must meet local worship and missionary work in city, state, nation and continents, north and south, in Europe, Africa, Asia and the islands of the seas. May Christian giving he less than ancient Hebrews giving? The writer of the epistle to the Hebrews declares, quoting from David, that Christ is "a priest forever after the order of Melchizedek." Is not Christ entitled to receive the New holes must be made every week or two, and the more common practice is to transfer the gems from one finger to another whenever a new hole must be made. When rings are used instead of pendants, they are usually only about half the diameter of the ordinary finger ring, and are studded A young man in Rhode Island, the owner, of a yacht, was recently punished for am attempt at smuggling. Scotia, last summer, and while there edek." Is not Christ entitled to receive the tithe today? How ought Christians to give? phonal and phenacetine. These he "Let each man do according as he hath purposed in his heart; not grudgingly or of necessity, for God loveth a cheerful giver." brought to this country, and then found he could not dispose of them without detection. He finally became Purpose by plan conscientiously. Fix total income. Tithe it, increasing the tithe as God increases the income. Administer the trust as sacred to Christ, not from impulse merely, but in the Christian order of life. What apprehensive that the authorities would find him out, so he went to the merely, but in the Christian order of life. What ought Christians to give to? To more objects, or to fewer wisely selected? Here must good judgment and prudence prevail. There are many objects, but few are essential. Money gatherers abound. Regular and appointed agencies are forgotten or neglected. Should not the support of one's own church be the first, because covenanted, consideration? Here is equality in worship. Should there not be equity in sharing costs ing the drugs. These were confiscated and the young man now has concluded that crime doesn't pay.-Medical Rec-house, shall not worshipful emotions be em-phasized with the coin of the Kingdom? A full worship includes the "gift at the altar." —Bev. Arthur S. Burrows.

Should there not be equity in sharing costs of worship? Then follow appointed denominational missionary agencies for the foreign and home evangelization, whose claims best interpret the fulfilment of Childric General compression. When shall the Christ's Gospel commission. When shall the offering be made? Paul indicates "the first day of the week." Then, when in the Lord's

A Prayer for Spiritual Harvest. Giver of all good, the harvest is thine and is thy gift to the children of men. Thou makest the corn to grow and the valleys to sing because of abundance. Thou openest thine hand and satisfiest the desire of every living thing. Thou hast spread our table morning, noon and night; thou hast been round about our dwelling place as a defence and hast given thine angels charge concerning our life. May we take all the bounties with grateful hearts and sing aloud of the goodness of God. Thou art alike in giving and withholding. When the harvest is scanty may we be kept from complaining; and when it is plentiful and well-gathered may we be kept from forgetfulness of the Lord of the harvest. Teach us the good husbandry of the heart, so that thy precious Giver of all good, the barvest is thine and Lord of the harvest. Teach us the good husbandry of the heart, so that thy precious word may bring forth fruit, and that we, having the conditions of spiritual readinese to receive the water of life, may thereby be refreshed and nourished and fitted, at last for the life eternal, through Jesus Christ our

The Two Currents of Life. At the mouth of the Gulf or Iexico are two currents-one the great warm current that flows out of the Gulf of Mexico and carries the inspiring warmth all along our coast, and then, spreading out in a fan-like form, bathes all the shore of Europe, and carries the fig and the olive and the grape wherever it goes; the other the cold cur-rent flowing down from the Arctic Ocean into the Gulf of Mexico. So in life are two currents flowing in opposite directions—the cold and the warm. Which way is your life carrying you? Are you carrying, in your mind and heart the arctic or the tropic zone flowing with the love of God in your soul, to bless whatever life you touch, or flowing with the cold, cold current of selfishness, never to bless, unless the warm light that comes from the sun above transforms and renews your spirit?—Lyman Abbott, D. D.

Wi ere Houses Are to Let. Wi ere Houses Are to Let.

At a Methodist love-feast a good brother had indulged in a long, complaining strain of experiences about the trials and difficulties in the way to heaven. Another of a different spirit followed, who said: "I see our brother who has just sat down lives in Grumbling street. I lived there myself for some time, and never enjoyed good health. The air is bad, the houses bad, the water bad; the birds never came and sang in the street, and I was gloomy and sad enough. street, and I was gloomy and sad enough. But I flitted. I got into Thanksgiving street, and ever since then I have had good health, and so have my family. The air is pure, the water good, the houses good; the sun shines in it all day; the birds are always singing, and I am as happy as I can be.
Now I recommend our brother to 'flit.'
There are plenty of houses to let in Thanksgiving street."—Christian Intelligencer.

Wherever we are we may do something for Christ. Some can speak for Him, more can sing for Him. Willing hands will not long remain idle if wedded to thoughtful hearts and observant eyes. - Rev. Henry W.

Returns His Pension.

The Rev. L. J. Keith, of Vincennes, Ind. refuses to receive a pension from the Government, and has made restitution of the money received by him, amounting in the aggregate to $495.86. He was First Lieutenant in Company B, Twenty-sixth Indiana Regiment, and served four years and six months in the Civil War with a good

High Tax on Whisky. The Canadian Government has imposed tax of $2 per gailon on whisky for the

France and Brazil Arbitrate. France and Brazil have agreed to arbi trate their boundary dispute.

A TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

THE DRINK EVIL MADE MANIFEST IN MANY WAYS.

The Land of Temperance-The Saloon and Prosperity-Besults of an Investigation of a "Wet" and "Dry" Town in Iowa-The Fruits of Intern

No broken windows or hanging doors, No greasy walls or dirty floors, But pretty homes and gardens gay, And scent of flowers miles away.

No ragged babes, no weary wives, No women tired of wretched lives, But merry maids and bonny boys, And streets alive with gladsome noise

No aching hearts and dragging feet, No unemployed in any street, But bounding step and cheery song, Work for the willing, brave and strong.

No frowning jails or prisons drear, No criminals in training here, But far and wide our banner waves O'er men who never shall be slaves.

No public debt to make men frown, No breaking banks to crush them down. No empty coffers in the State, For debts are small and incomes great.

Dear, far-off country of my birth.
The grandest spot upon the earth,
Oh, may I live to see the day
When all thy woe shall pass away,
And glorious, beautiful and free
Thou shalt arise victoriously.

Legitimate Fruits of Intemperance.

"The other day," says one interested in charitable work, "I visited a family I have long known, once respectable and prosperous, but who have been dragged down by drink. The mother died a year ago, but death hastened by intemperance. Since that time the young daughters (both under twenty) have found some very undesirable acquaintances. They have fallen into bad company as well as into intemperance; and the father is a hard drinker. At my recent visit I found him sick in bed in consequence of his habits, and a more wretched scene I never witnessed. He was covered with a lot of rags; there was no chair in the room except one with a broken back, which held his medicine. The filth and disorder were distressing. A drunken man came into the room, and I had to order him down stains that I might talk with the daughters alone. I appealed to them and they made me fair promises, which they have done before, however, in vair. They are giddy and thoughtless, fond of visiting the dime museums and neglectful of all duty and work.

"All this misery and sin is the legitimate." Legitimate Fruits of Intemperance work.

"All this misery and sin is the legitimate fruits of intemperance, and at times I am almost led to believe that we are not advancing a hair's breadth towards the solution of the liquor problem, and that intemperance is manifestly on the increase among the poor whom I visit. This, however, on maturer reflection, I know to be not so, though there are times when the magnitude of the misery caused by drink is so great that it really seems to outweigh all the efforts that have been made to alleviate and control it."

The Saloons and Prosperity. A week or two ago the writer was in an lowa town of 800 inhabitants. It has two saloons and two drug stores. The saloons pay a mulet tax of $1000 each, the drug stores none. During 1896 these two saloons 'took in' $26,000 from sales by the glass and keg. It is estimated that the drug stores sold half as much more, making the pays were stored. ing the net sum of $40,000 paid out in one year for drink in this little town. Now, if year for drink in this little town. Now, if saloons "help the trade of a town," this town ought to be booming, but it is not. The best store buildings in the town are vacant. Stocks are run down; the hotel man wants "to get out," and hard times is the subject of four-fifths of the conversation of residents and strangers. Ten miles from there is a "dry town," both surrounded by the same class of population. This latter town has its best buildings occupied, its poorer ones vacant. Paint is used freely and often. Sidewalks are repaired, and traveling men will tell an incurrer and traveling men will tell an inquirer that in the dry town merchants discount their bills, and in the wet one ask extensions—not in all cases, but many. In the wet town one merchant told the Looker-On he frequently knew of some farmer "blowing" in enough in one day at the saloon to pay an account due him for over a year. Now, if the writer, not being a prohibitionist, can see this so plainly, what an argument could some 'professional prohib.' get in this wet, soggy town!—Marshalltown (Iowa) Times-Republican.

The Wrong Boad.

When a young man begins to drink, it is asthough he got on an electric car and went to sleep. He crosses one street after another without knowing it. Total abstinance advocates come, like, the conductor every now and then, and call out the stopping-places, but he rides on. Hethinks he can get off when he wants to, and face car rolls along in the same direction all the time with a low humming, song that fulls him to sleep. When he finally gets his eyes open he is amazed to find that he has riden much farther than he had any wish to go. He has a big bill for extra fare charged den much farther than he had, any wish to go. He has a big bill for extra fare charged up against him, and he has a hard and long walk back, for there are no cars back in a man's life. He has to walk. He will find the journey a good deal more cheerful and be much less likely to stumble if he joins the total abstinence movement and walks long in good company.

Result of Scientific Experiments. Result of Scientific Experiments.

From scientific experiments upon more than two thousand persons, Dr. J. H. Kellogg, of Battle Creek, Mich., has determined the effects of one ounce of alcohol administered internally to be the following:

(1) To diminish nerve activity; (2) to diminish cerebral activity; (3) to impair the co-ordinating power of the brain; (4) to lessen muscular strength; (5) to decrease digestive activity to a notable extent. Both his medical experience and laboratory research have convinced him that it is an error to regard alcohol as an sid to digestion. ror to regard alcohol as an sid to digestion, and it has proven highly detrimental. This influence upon the digestion, he declares, is exactly what would be expected of a drug that, like alcohol, is a paralyzer of protoniusmic activity an anosthetic and a protoplasmic activity, an anæsthetic and a sedative, and not, as has been erroneously supposed, a stimulant.

Beer Drinking is Brutalizing. The Scientific American says that excessive beer drinking is even more brutalizing than whisky drinking. The most dangerous class of ruffans in our large cities are beer drinkers. The very lowest form of inbeer drinkers. The very lowest form of in-ebriety, closely allied to criminal insanity, follows from beer drinking. A beer drinker may be the picture of health, he may weigh three or four hundred pounds, but in reality he is most incapable of resisting disease. Compared with inebriates who use whisky, he is more incurable, more generally diseased.

Forcible Temperance Sermon. A young man recently convicted of mur-A young man recently convicted of mur-der in one of the Massachusetts towns deliv-ered a forcible temperance sermon when, turning to the crowd who had gathered to see him driven from the courthouse to the jail, he said, "Well, boys, you see what rum has done for me."

Temperance News and Notes.

Take care of the boy of sensibility and generous impulses. He is the one most likely to fall a victim to drink. Beer is the most besotting drink of man-kind. It produces the lowest class of criminals, says the Scientific American. Don't be afraid you'll be lonesome if you become a total abstainer. There are more than 77,000 members in the C. T. A. U. of

In Maine, a prohibition State, the people have in the savings banks an overage of $80.77 apiece, while those in Ohio have only $9.42 and those of Illinois only $6.14. The total number of abstaining Congregational ministers is 2364, which represents eighty-three per cent. of the whole min-istry. Out of the 256 students in the cleven istry. Out of the 256 students in the eleven colleges in England and Wales 251 are abstainers. A ingenious liquor advertisement reads:

"Many a copper and dollar cau be saved by buying your wines, liquors and beer of us." It does not take a very wise man to see that still more can be saved by not.

...ing this kind of goods at all.